As we enter into the festive season, words and symbolic icons of the Holy Ghost, the Spirit, Elijah, Bhoot, and many other names for the same are pulled from attics around the world and infiltrate our lives once again. For my work, it is a reoccurring issue. The realm of the spirit is not just for the icons and symbols of faith. Indigenous people are well aware that each and everyone of us has a spirit that can move around in the body. It can leave the body altogether — and come back. They believe it is a beautiful expansive way to connect to others and experience nature. We are more than the meat suits we wear.

There are many times I help my clients, through communication with the higher self, to return spirit to the body when there is a spiritual disconnect, often the result of a trauma or conflict. Another issue is that the communication pathways between the spirit, the heart, the mind, and the physical body are so distorted that the individual lives a fragmented disillusioned existence. By removing the blocks and imbalances keeping this disconnect in place, they are returned to a state of unified functioning.

OFFER ENDS DECEMBER 24TH

The only realm in which this concept attunes to our Western value system is the belief that when we die our spirit leaves our body. We are capable of being so much more. We in the West are not taught this concept of spiritual flight because, if we knew the power we had to create our world, those trying to control us would have no chance.

Now, to freak you out more, the spirit normally resides in the pineal gland. It can travel outside the body and explore and create unified feelings of love with others. This is a beautiful part of life and for those who believe in my work, this is how I work.

Now for the downside:

Guess what gland is calcified by Fluoride? Yes, the pineal gland, the gland of the Anja, the brow chakra, the home of your spirit and means by which you connect to others has been under attack in an insidious way.

Fluoride is added to the public water systems, is being painted on children's teeth by dentists, and is added to toothpaste (have you seen the medical warnings on what toothpaste can do to children if they swallow it? And you let it in your house?)

NOTE: Fluoride has no affect on cavities. Since that was proven, the new excuse now is that it 'promotes strong teeth'.

Can you now think of reasons why this disgusting chemical is being added to infect you and the next generation twenty times a day (as well as synthetic calcium)?

A short list:

- disconnection from Pineal gland allows media to program us, creating false belief and value systems, grounded in materialism and focus on the great divide.
- reduces cognitive function
- creates sleep issues
- throws off reproductive function

What you can do:

1. Check out your public water reports online. Go to 'water utilities and the name of your town or county' and then find 'water quality'; Municipalities have to publish the additives. For your home, get a water filter that removes Fluoride and carry bottles of your purified water when you leave the house.

2. Never let a dentist paint Flouride on your child's teeth. If your dentist even offers this service, find a new dentist, ideally a specially trained and aware 'biological dentist'.

3. Throw away any toothpaste that has Flouride or any warning about it being a poison. By having this in your house you are financially supporting big Pharma and you are going to let this in your mouth and/or the mouths of children. Right next to the pineal gland.

4. Contact your water utility department and demand they stop adding Flouride to your water. Get your children's school vocally behind this objection.

Now for the upside:

Body Code can energetically detox and activate the Pineal Gland. By removing the underlying causes, balance can be achieved. These supplements also help to activate a detoxed Pineal Gland:

1. Nascent Iodine
2. Turmeric
3. Activator X butter oil directs calcium to bones and teeth or use Ghee or even Kerry butter from Ireland.
4. Purbblack Shilajit and Fulvic Acid. reduces fatigue and is anti-aging.
5. Fulvic Ionic Minerals 6 drops only
6. Chaga mushrooms
7. Raw Cacao
8. Tamarind
9. Raw Apple Cider Vinegar (Bragg's)
- 10 Green Superfoods (chlorella, spirulina, wheat grass)

Before you lay your head on a pillow, greet and bless your spirit. Invite your spirit to fly and explore the world, connect with others, and learn and create the wisdom to guide you in this life. You are in control. You have free will.

I again extend my thanks appreciation for all the support and trust that is given to me daily by my clients, to push the boundaries of what can create health and I am honoured you have given me so many gifts of untold grace.

Peace be with you.
